Switch Account

Troubleshooting  $\bigcirc$

1. Only Signals can be copied. If you select 'Copy trades' your account cannot be copied

2. If you enter your INVESTOR account number, copy trading will not work. Ensure you enter your TRADING account number.

3. To switch an account enter the details for your new account. If you are a Signal you will need to close all trades on your existing account first

4. To switch to between a Signal and Copier account - select the required option and select 'Done'

|                          | 14:23                                   | <ul><li> 76%</li></ul> |
|--------------------------|---|------------------------|
|                          |   |                        |
| your b                   | roker logi                              | n details              |
| D:/ trades           | O Provide                               | signals                |
| server                   |   | •                      |
| number                   |   |                        |
| d                        |   |                        |
| trading ac               | count? Create or                 | ie now          |
| ı have any+44 | questions, pleas20 3475 4516 | e call us              |
|                          |   |                        |
|                          |   | Done                   |
|                          |   |                        |
|                          |   |                        |

Select whether you are a Copier or a Signal Provider

Enter your trading account number

Enter your password & select DONE